

Unemployed?

I was unemployed just like you, until I found Help to Work. Not only did they support me with professional advice to find a job, they also contributed £100 for the training that I needed to start it.

They could even help you too, so why not give it a go?

What is Help to Work?

Help to Work is an employment support programme co-financed by the European Social Fund. You don't have to be on benefits to join, but you must be aged 16 or over, unemployed and a legal resident with the right to work in the UK.

Help to Work offers you personalised support and access to a wide range of exciting services and training to help you find the best job, including:

- Help to improve your CV, interview and presentation skills
- Advice and guidance on changing direction and support to pursue a different career goal
- Great work experience opportunities and a wide range of job vacancies that match your skills and goals
- Access to a wide variety of additional local services, courses and community groups through our unique Help to Work website
- Support to build your confidence and improve your long-term health and wellbeing
- Advice and support on starting a business
- Help with buying specialist equipment or clothing for a job
- Up to six months of extra support once you find work to help you settle in and progress in your role

We are here to support you in your journey to employment and offer £100 of e-vouchers once you start the programme to help you gain work. The vouchers are accessible from our online marketplace and redeemable with a wide range of local training and support partners, along with clothing and equipment for a specific job role, such as site boots, or a CSCS card. You might just need interview clothing, but whatever you need to help you gain your ideal job – the help is right here.
